The motto of every missionary, whether preacher, printer, or schoolmaster, ought to be "Devoted for life."

The motto of every missionary, whether preacher, printer, or schoolmaster, ought to be "Devoted for life."

SAMPLE

Our prayers run along one road
and God's answers by another,
and by and by they meet.

Our prayers run along one road
and God's answers by another,
and by and by they meet.

SAMPLE

It is true that we may desire much more. But let us use what we have, and God will give us more.

It is true that we may desire much more. But let us use what we have, and God will give us more.

SAMPLE

“Nothing is impossible,” said one of the seven sages of Greece, “to industry.” Let us change the word, “industry,” to “persevering prayer,” and the motto will be more Christian and more worthy of universal adoption.

“Nothing is impossible,” said one of the seven sages of Greece, “to industry.” Let us change the word, “industry,” to “persevering prayer,” and the motto will be more Christian and more worthy of universal adoption.

SAMPLE

SAMPLE