

How would you like to celebrate

Christmas from

December 8 to

February 2?

You can in Mexico!

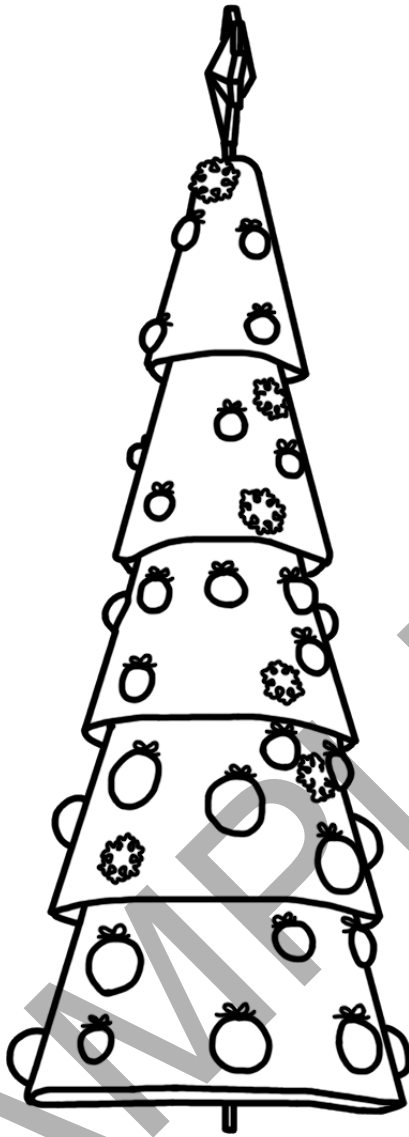

Arcimientos,

Nativity scenes, are the most important

decorations and add

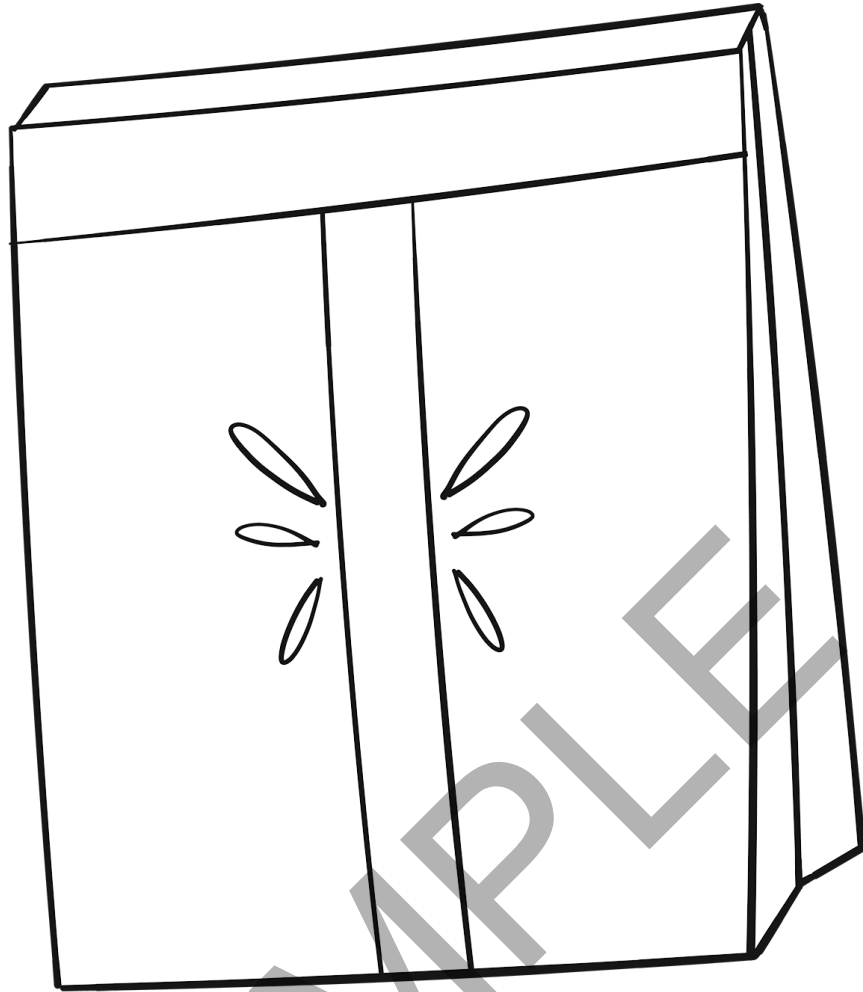

Mexican villagers . . .

to the scene.

Trees decorated with felt, yarn, wood, and
handmade ornaments

are common.

So are luminarias,
small lights in paper
bags that symbolize lighting the way for Mary and Joseph.

Poinsettias grow in Mexico and are used to remind people of the Star of David.
