

One kind of Nativity is called a szopka. It's a tradition that began in Krakow.

Carolers carry them
from house to house,
sing, and perform
puppet shows.

Hospitality is very important, and
many families try to make sure no one
spends the holiday
alone.

Some set an extra,
empty place at the
table just in case
someone comes at
the last minute.